The Daily Quote

"We made enormous progress [on the economy] since a year ago. We had a real panic. And if you didn't panic, you didn't understand what was going on. What happened in September and October of 2008 will particularly be remembered for a long, long time. And while the governmental authorities malign things sometimes, they fortunately did some very right things, very important things. They did them properly, and they kept us from going over the cliff."

- Warren Buffett, 10/20/09
